Why is this holiday different from all the others?

by Rabbi David-Seth Kirshner

Passover is a holiday that seems to connect with all types of Jewish people. Whether one strives to keep as many commandments as possible or Judaism is more of a cultural connection, statistics show that most Jews observe Passover, share a festive Seder and eat matzah on this holiday. What is it that causes most people to celebrate this holiday over the other pilgrimage festivals of Shavuot or Sukkot?

Why is this holiday different from all the others?

While I am not positive, I have a hypothesis as to why this is the case. Allow me to share some of these thoughts with you:

Passover is a holiday, unlike many others, that encompasses every emotion and seems to land perfectly in the sweet spot of the Jewish calendar. Only six months earlier we celebrate the high holidays with Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. This break in time seems to lend itself to some level of added engagement.

Furthermore, Passover's main entrée, so to speak, is the Seder, combining two things Jews do very well: ritual and food. This meal, surrounded with songs, delightful menus rich with historical recipes of our ancestry and yesteryear's culinary favorites make the meal a trip down memory lane – memories from the Exodus and from our grandmother's home.

Little jogs our memories like music. A song can come on the radio and its tune can bring us way back to vivid memories. The songs of the Seder and Passover do the same. The four questions. Dayeinu. Had Gadya. Echad Mi Yodeah. These are all staples of our Seder experiences and each time we sing them we not only experience our current Seder, we experience the Seder of our childhood as well.

The story of Passover is emblematic of our history; they tried to kill us, we survived so, let's eat. This narrative fits neatly into our wheel-house in ways that many other holidays do not. Shavuot is difficult because it deals with the notion of doing then listening, Naasesh veNishmah. Sukkot is about agriculture and harvesting. Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are about life and death and our future and past and soul searching. But Passover is about a place where our destiny was concretized. It is about our redemption from Egypt. This time serves as an important and liminal moment on our shared history. To prove that point, we mention it daily, weekly on Shabbat and each Kiddush remembers our redemption as the key point in our history. Obviously, the moment commemorating this event adds significance to our holiday.

The last reason might hold true for all holidays, but somehow rings more true on Passover. This holiday seems to almost require family to be near. Family and neighbors and loved ones are a critical ingredient to the Seder, the spirit of the holiday and even the remembrance done in the Yizkor towards the ends of the holiday of those that are no longer with us. The holiday is made or broken by those we taste, sing and enjoy it with.

So, there you have it. A few reasons why Passover seems to stick out in its importance: Timing, singing, food, ritual, memory, narrative and family all seem to be the perfect blend to make this holiday stick out more than most. I hope you use any or all of these reasons to make the most out of your holiday and enjoy it with your family and ours.

Chag Sameach,

Rabbi David-Seth Kirshner

The Quest for Quality Questions

Have you ever questioned questioning? In our American society, when people speak of questioning their faith, it's seen as a negative. But in Jewish tradition, questioning our faith is a positive, for we are a people founded not upon a catechism but upon interpretation of Torah, which is always multifaceted. The Talmud itself is chock-full of questions like, "Why do we do a certain practice?" "What's your proof?" "How do you respond to this argument?" To ask provocative questions is to be engaged. However, when some people, perhaps smart-aleck teenagers, ask provocative questions it might be seen as a rebellious act. The difference lies in the tone of voice, which speaks to the questioner's willingness to listen. One may ask any question at all, so long as one is open to listening to the answer and taking it seriously. Conversely, to ask a question without being open to the answer is not in the spirit of Jewish questioning.

I see this in the questions posed by the wise and wicked sons in the Haggadah. The wise son asks, "What are the rules and statutes which the L-rd our G-d commanded you?" Here he is open to hearing an answer. He's genuinely curious. He's wise not because the question itself is sagacious but because he's willing to listen. Contrast this with the wicked son's question, "What does this service mean to you?" The tone of voice conveys "Why on earth are you doing this nonsense?" He's not open to a response. He's making a statement in the guise of a question. That's why he's "wicked." Maybe the better descriptor is "rebellious." If the tone of voice were, "What do you find meaningful about this service?" that changes everything, because that reveals an openness to receiving the answer and taking it seriously. Question away. Encourage your kids to ask questions about Judaism not just at the Seder but all year long. Teach them, however, that to ask a good question depends on being open to an answer too.

Any questions?

Rabbi Aleex Freedman

A LETTER FROM OUR CANTOR

Cantor Israel Singer

Our Children, Our Future

A great deal of my time is spent working with our B'nai Mitzvah students as we help prepare them for this special milestone in their lives. We know what an exciting time this is for the children and their families and we too sheep much "nachas" from seeing each child shine when they have their day on the Bimah.

While the children make it look so easy, there are many people at the Temple who put a great deal of thought and planning into the process and program that is in place today. We realize that for our young Jewish men and women to stand on the Bimah and read from the Torah and chant their individual Haftarah entails much more than just learning the Trop. Many of our B'nai Mitzvah students share their day with one of their peers, and this helps them learn how to work with others and show respect to their partner. We also realize the importance of having our children learn the components of the service that are not specific to the Bar or Bat Mitzvah. Kabbalat Shabbat and Shacharit (morning) services are taught in the early years of Religious School, and have prepared the students to be able to lead Friday night and Shabbat morning services prior to starting their B'nai Mitzvah preparations. We want them to be proud of their heritage and to feel connected to their fellow Jews around the world. We hope this experience and knowledge helps them feel at home in any synagogue as they embark on their lives as young Jewish adults.

Soon we will celebrate the holidays of Passover and Israel Independence Day. These holidays both symbolize the great miracles that G-d granted us, saving us from slavery and death. I hope you will join us as we celebrate our rich history, redemption, freedom and commitment to our Jewish people past, present and future.

Yours always,
Cantor Israel Singer

Arielle Ephrat

אריאל

Daughter of Tamar Albert-Ephrat
and Roni Ephrat

Sister of Benjamin

Shabbat Parah Shimini

April 2, 2016

Arielle is a 7th grader at Norwood Public School where her favorite subjects are Music and Art. Her favorite free time activities are playing the piano, reading, swimming, and listening to music.

For her Kesher Olam, Arielle volunteered for the Rockleigh Jewish Home. Arielle writes, "Helping the elderly complete arts and crafts is meaningful because it gives them a chance to participate in something that may be difficult to do, but enjoyable at the same time. Older people always need someone to talk to so they enjoy it when someone helps them and listens to the stories of their past. Becoming a Bat Mitzvah is important because you learn that in life you will be faced with many challenges and it's important to be ready for them. Reading from the Torah is not easy, but it can be accomplished if you are prepared. I have learned (from my Jewish education) that it is important to give to charity and help people whenever it's possible. This will help me make important decisions in life as well as helping people in need."

Benjamin Louis Rosen

בנימין לויין

Son of Elise Sue and Bruce Lawrence Rosen

Brother of Rebecca and Hannah

Shabbat Parah Shimini

April 2, 2016

Benjamin is a 7th grader at Tenafly Middle School where his favorite subjects are Math and Science. His favorite free time activities are baseball, soccer, and reading.

For his Kesher Olam, Benjamin volunteered for Challenger Baseball. Benjamin writes, "Becoming a Bar Mitzvah has given me a better understanding of the Jewish religion and teachings and how they relate to my life. Over the past 1 1/2 years my father and I have been reading the Bible. This reinforced my learning and established a connection for me with Jewish history. I can't wait to visit Israel."

Cara Jace Toback

חיה אורלי

Daughter of Karen and Michael Toback

Sister of Ella

Achrei Mot

May 7, 2016

Cara is a 6th grader at The Elisabeth Morrow School where her favorite subjects are History, Art, Gym, Orchestra and Math. Her favorite free time activities are ice skating, soccer, tap dancing, and baking.

For her Kesher Olam, Cara sold jewelry for the financial aid fund for the Elisabeth Morrow Summer String Festival, which is a week-long music camp in August at her school. Cara writes, "Becoming a Bat Mitzvah is important to me because I am considered an adult in the Jewish community. I like the idea of the responsibility that comes with becoming a Bat Mitzvah like volunteering to help others, going to services and keeping the holidays with my family."

Ella Jace Toback

אליענה לאה

Daughter of Karen and Michael Toback

Sister of Cara

Achrei Mot

May 7, 2016

Ella is a 7th grader at The Elisabeth Morrow School where her favorite subjects are History and Music. Her favorite free time activities are playing guitar, electric bass, ukulele, and violin, playing squash, and listening to vinyl records.

For her Kesher Olam, Ella is raising money for the EMS Summer String Festival. Ella writes, "I have been going to this camp for eight years. It is a string camp where you can learn challenging music and meet people who play the same instrument. I want to raise money for my camp because I feel like every child who loves music deserves a chance to go."

Harlie Amelia Epstein חיה אביבה

Daughter of Laurie and Neil Epstein

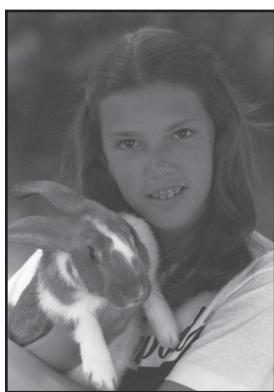

Sister of Isabelle

Rosh Chodesh Iyyar

May 8, 2016

Harlie is a 7th grader at Haworth Public School where her favorite subjects are Science, Music, and Gym. Her favorite free time activities are dance, piano, voice lessons, guitar, aerial yoga, softball, and summer camp.

For her Kesher Olam, Harlie is focusing her efforts on helping find a cure and raise awareness for Juvenile Arthritis by organizing a team for the Juvenile Arthritis Walk-a-thon as well as hand-making soft blankets to be handed out to patients in the Pediatric Rheumatology Center at Hackensack Hospital, so that kids with arthritis can receive some comfort during their procedures, just as she received during her own procedures. In addition, she will be working with the Twin With a Survivor program to share her Bat Mitzvah with a Holocaust survivor, as well as share his story. Harlie writes, "My Kesher Olam is so meaningful to me because it is giving back to the community and it is helping a cause that I experience and can relate to. I have Juvenile Arthritis, so I understand what the kids are going through when they are feeling sad or in a lot of pain. I was given a special hand-made blanket during a procedure, and I have always kept it with me. The blanket means a lot to me because I know someone out there cares about me, and I want to make blankets so I can make other children feel happy. I want to share my Bat Mitzvah with a Twin With a Survivor because they didn't have the chance to have a Bar/Bat Mitzvah and it is important to me to keep their story going from generation to generation."

Lorin Cook לאה נתניה

Wife of Jonathan

Mom of Peri, Jacob, Mara, and Sammy

Shabbat Tazriah

April 9, 2016

Lorin attended the seventh grade at Junior High School 194 in Queens, New York. She later graduated from Arizona State University and holds a Masters Degree from St. Johns University. She is a mom of 4 kids, and enjoys cooking, spinning, and charity work.

For her Kesher Olam, she volunteered for three days at the Food Network's New York City Food and Wine Festival, organizing events and cooking with chefs to raise money for the New York City Food Bank. Lorin writes, "It's never too late in your life to step up to the Bimah and become a Bat Mitzvah! I have wanted to do this for so long, and I'm so happy that I am finally able to accomplish this very important milestone!"

Daniel Wolf דניאל

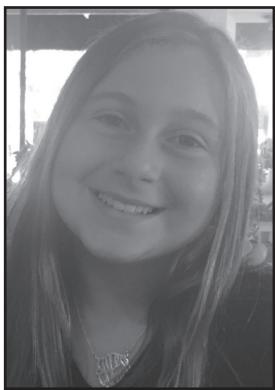

Son of Yael and David Wolf

Kedoshim

May 14, 2016

Daniel is a 7th grader at Tenafly Middle School where his favorite subjects are science, social studies, and chorus. His favorite free time activities are playing piano, video games, reading, drawing, skiing, building with Legos, and participating in Boy Scouts.

For his Kesher Olam, Daniel participated in fundraisers for Jewish organizations and volunteered at local organizations that work with children. Daniel writes, "My Jewish education connects me to my religion, culture, Israel and other Jews throughout the world. Being a Bar Mitzvah means I have to take responsibility for my own actions. As I study Haftora, Torah and prayers that I will recite, I am learning discipline, commitment and perseverance. All of these skills will help me become a better and more mature Jewish man."

Son of Ruth and Alan Yung
Brother of Heather

Emor

May 21, 2016

Simon is a 7th grader at Norwood Public School where his favorite subjects are Science and Math. His favorite free time activities are wrestling, soccer, Boy Scouts, and playing trombone.

For his Kesher Olam, he is having a teen Spin-A-Thon at the Kaplen JCC on the Palisades. Simon writes, "The money raised will be donated to Camp Haverim, the Kaplen JCC's camp for special needs children, specifically to enhance the end of camp carnival that brings so much joy to this great group of campers. For the past 3 summers, I volunteered as a counselor at Camp Haverim. Working with these campers is rewarding for me because I am able to gain perspective on how to help people of all abilities. It also feels great to watch these campers have so much fun doing typical summer things. Becoming a Bar Mitzvah means I'm now a responsible Jewish adult, which is what I've been working towards in all of my Jewish education."

Natalie Janowski

Daughter of Jill and Joseph Janowski
Sister of Jacob and Jordan

Bechukotai

June 4, 2016

Natalie is a 6th grader at Solomon Schechter Day School where her favorite subjects are Math, Science and Art. Her favorite free time activities are composing music, songs, and art.

For her Kesher Olam, Natalie raised money for Haiti Children, which she has been donating money to since she was eight years old. Natalie writes, "My Kesher Olam is so meaningful to me because it makes me happy that kids who do not have a lot in their lives can have a bit more. When the massive earthquake hit Haiti in 2010, I was devastated to know that more than 125 children became orphans. Every year I sell some of my toys and games to raise money for this organization that cares for these children. Now that I will soon be a Bat Mitzvah, I hope to keep this tradition and continue to raise money for these children who have many needs and no parents. I hope I can help these children smile."

June 11, 2016

Max is a 7th grader at Rodeph Sholom School where his favorite subjects are History and English. His favorite free time activities are baseball, football, making home videos with his brothers, watching and making movies, playing saxophone, and cross country.

Max writes, "Becoming a Bar Mitzvah is important to me because now that I can do things such as wear a Tallit, T'fillin, and read Torah from the Bimah, I feel like a bigger part of the Jewish community and can more fully participate in services."

Brandon Sudnow

Son of Risa and Michael Sudnow
Brother of Jordan

Bamidbar

June 11, 2016

Brandon is a 7th grader at Tenafly Middle School where his favorite subjects are Math and Social Studies. His favorite free time activities are baseball and hockey.

For his Kesher Olam, Brandon was a buddy for the Tenafly Challenger Little League program, where he helped kids with special needs play the sport he loves. Brandon writes, "I became friendly with many of the kids while teaching them to field and hit. It made me happy that they got so excited to see me both on and off the field. What I learned from this project is that if you are a leader with passion and dedication, you can have a positive influence on other people. I hope to apply what I learned from this experience to my Bar Mitzvah and put hard work and dedication into my studies. I look forward to sharing this day with my family and friends."

Eli James Scher

Son of Ina and Peter Scher
Brother of Johanna

Nasso

June 18, 2016

Eli is a 7th grader at Horace Mann where his favorite subjects are Math and English. His favorite free time activities are playing guitar, listening to music, and playing ping pong, baseball, tennis, and water polo.

For his Kesher Olam, Eli volunteered as a Teen Assistant for Kitah Bet (2nd Grade) and Temple Emanu-El's Religious School. Eli writes, "I am able to help teach the kids how to read Hebrew and say prayers while creating a happy and fun learning environment. In addition, last summer on the temple mission trip to Israel, one of the highlights was going to a food pantry and packaging food for needy families. This year I will continue this kind of work in New Jersey. I feel that my Jewish education will be of value to me throughout my life because, as Cantor Singer has said during all those Saturday Shabbat services for the past 7 years, l'dor va'dor. When I am older and have a family of my own I want to be able to teach my children the same Jewish values that I have learned so they can appreciate Judaism the way I now do."

Johanna Rose Scher

June 18, 2016

Johanna is a 6th grader at Horace Mann where her favorite subjects are History and Science. Her favorite free time activities are playing flute, singing, listening to music, crafts projects, cooking, basketball, and ping-pong.

For her Kesher Olam, Johanna went to food pantries in Israel, and plans to continue this work in New Jersey. Johanna writes, "In Hebrew School we spend a lot of time discussing how to make good and moral choices in life. I think I will have many important choices to make as I get older and I feel that the Jewish values that I have learned have given me a solid foundation for making these decisions in a responsible way."

In Israel

Judah is a 7th grader at Tenafly Middle School where his favorite subjects is History. His favorite free time activities are video games, hiking, dogs, and playing guitar.

For his Kesher Olam, Judah raised money to help children with diabetes get the supplies they need in Israel. He is also working on a video to raise awareness of Type 1 diabetes. Judah writes, "My mitzvah project is to sell bracelets to raise money and awareness for Type 1 Diabetes. The money will go to families in Israel that are in need of diabetic supplies and don't have the resources to get them. This is important to me because every day I think how hard it would be for me to live without my devices for my diabetes. I am so thankful for all I have I want to make it easier for others."

The Seder Plate

Preparing the Seder plate requires attention. The special foods we eat on Passover are also food for thought. Every item on the Seder plate abounds with meaning and allusion. The Seder plate has six items on it, arranged in a special order. The plate is placed on top of the covering of the three matzot and is placed in front of the head of the household. The foods of the Seder plate are listed below, with the reason each one is included, the method for preparing it, and its role in the Seder meal.

THE FOODS OF THE SEDER PLATE

The Shank Bone A piece of roasted meat represents the lamb that was the special sacrifice on the eve of the exodus from Egypt, and annually on the afternoon before Passover, in the Holy Temple.

The Egg A hard-boiled egg represents the holiday offering brought in the days of the Holy Temple. The meat of this animal constituted the main part of the Passover meal. A popular way of eating these eggs is to chop and mix them with the salt water which is set on the table. The eggs prepared this way are then served as an appetizer.

The Bitter Herbs Bitter herbs (Maror) remind us of the bitterness of the slavery of our forefathers in Egypt. Freshly grated horseradish, romaine lettuce, and endive are the most common choices.

Charoset A mixture of apples, nuts and wine which resembles the mortar and brick made by the Jews when they toiled for Pharaoh. Preparation: Shell walnuts and peel apples and chop finely. Mix together and add a small amount of wine.

The Vegetable A non-bitter root vegetable alludes to the back-breaking work of the Jews as slaves. The Hebrew letters of karpas can be arranged to spell "Perach Samech". Perach means backbreaking work and Samech is numerically equivalent to 60, referring to the 60 myriads (10,000), equaling 600,000, which was the number of Jewish males over 20 years of age who were enslaved in Egypt.

The Lettuce The lettuce symbolizes the bitter enslavement of our fathers in Egypt. The leaves of romaine lettuce are not bitter, but the stem, when left to grow in the ground, turns hard and bitter.

Chametz Sale

Because the sale of Chametz involves many technicalities, it is customary for the clergy of the congregation to act as the agent for all who wish to sell their Chametz. If you own Chametz in several places (e.g. your home, summer home and/or business), fill in all addresses. Everyone who prepares a home for Passover should arrange for the sale of their Chametz. Use the form below to authorize Rabbi David-Seth Kirshner to sell Chametz in your possession on your behalf and submit it no later than Thursday, April 21st.

I hereby give permission to Rabbi David-Seth Kirshner to act as my agent and sell all Chametz, mixtures and objects containing Chametz. As my agent, he should arrange for this sale prior to 10:30am on Friday, April 22nd in accordance with Jewish law and custom. I have placed my Chametz and mixtures containing Chametz in specifically designated storage within my home, which is located at:

Would you risk everything - your future, your citizenship, even your life - to help a brother in need?

In 1948, just three years after the liberation of Nazi death camps, a group of Jewish American pilots answered a call for help. In secret and at great personal risk, they smuggled planes out of the U.S., trained behind the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia and flew for Israel in its War of Independence. As members of Machal – “volunteers from abroad” – this ragtag band of brothers not only turned the tide of the war; they also embarked on personal journeys of discovery and renewed Jewish pride. ABOVE AND BEYOND is their story.
